

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON SPECIAL FUNCTIONS, ANALYTIC FUNCTIONS, METRICS AND QUASICONFORMALITY ICSAMY 2024

In honor of Prof. S. Ponnusamy

December 17-20, 2024

Organized by

Department of Mathematics

Indian Institute of Technology Indore, India

Topics Include

- Analysis and geometry of metric spaces
- Quasiconformal and quasiregular mappings
- Several complex variables
- Special functions
- Univalent harmonic functions

Aim of the conference

The main purpose of the conference is to foster international cooperation in the above areas to further the interaction among the researchers from India and abroad. The primary emphasis is to promote collaborative research network involving the participants, in particular early career mathematicians. Plenary and invited talks will be aimed at providing an exposure to graduate students and postdoctoral fellows about the latest trends in the topics of the conference. In particular, there will be sessions on open problems in the fertile areas of the above topics. The conference will also provide an opportunity to the early career researchers to showcase their work and obtain feedback from leading experts in the field.

About IIT Indore

Indian Institute of Technology Indore located in Madhya Pradesh, known as IIT Indore or IITI, is an institute of national importance established by the Government of India in 2009. Since February 2016, IIT Indore has started functioning from its permanent campus. The Institute started functioning on its permanent campus, spread over an area of around 501.42-acres (2.1 square km), on 17th February 2009. It is at Simrol, located on Khandwa Road about 25 km from the city of Indore. The institute has established state-of-the-art infrastructure, including the computer centre, well-equipped labs, advanced instrumentation facilities, etc. IIT Indore has also been ranked 14 in the Engineering category by NIRF 2023. Moreover, it has been ranked 28 in the Overall category by NIRF 2023. The faculty members of the institute are well equipped to conduct high-quality research in both Science and Engineering and are also engaged in interdisciplinary research activities. Researchers interested in collaborative research are encouraged to contact the concerned faculty. The institute is actively engaged in organizing various research activities. The larger commitment of the institute is to socio-economic development, and is evident in its multi-dimensional approach to social problems and is engraved in its motto (knowledge for the well being of all), which makes this institution one of its kind and it stands out even within the distinguished IIT family.
